Two Games at Once in All Their Exciting Details.

Unique and Interesting Outgrowth of "Evening World" Enterprise.

See two baseball games at once? And even Well, that does sound rather improbable.
But it is precisely what baseball lovers in Efforts. this town will be enabled to do, beginning on Friday this week with the games of the two New York teams at Boston. And the place of this unique show will be Webster Hall, on Eleventh street, between Third and Fourth avenues, within a stone's throw of Union Square.

THE PERFECTED BAREBALL BULLETIN. This novel entertainment is a direct out-growth of THE EVENING WORLD'S enterprise. growth of The Eveniso World's enterprise. Who can fail to recall what a furor the baseball bulletin board, brought out by The Evenino World, occasioned in this metropoils last Summer? Thousands of delighted ball cranks followed its wonderful reproductions of the National game day after day, until Park Row and all about was rendered practically impassable. Out of Geference to issonsiderate lawmakers, who don't fully appreciate the importance of the noble game. The Evenino World will not undertake its street exhibitions this season. But it would be frough on New Yorkers to deprive them of so good a thing as the baseball bulletin. Therefore, with the consent of The Evenino World, the gentleman who patented and perfected the novel device will exhibit it at Webster Hall. And there will be not merely one but two bulletins, each with the very latest improvements, one for the New York Players League and the other for the New York National League. The management states that arrangements have been made for direct wires with all ball grounds in the country. Barring storms on the lines, to which all telegraphy is subject, the service will be the best that modern electricity can furnish.

Every detail of the plays will be faithfully given. Even "strikes" and balls' will be operated by four experts, including prompters who will elucidate the moves when necessary. Who can fail to recall what a furor the base

Webster Hall, where this unique double entertainment will be given, beginning Friday at 3 p. M., with the game at Boston, is very centrally located between Third and Fourth avenues, a minutes' wask from Union Square or the Ninth street station of the Third Avenue 1. It is a very pretty hall, large and comfortable, and admirably adapted to this purpose. Smoking will be allowed during the bulletin performance. The admission has been piaced at 15 cents, a few seats being reserved at 10 cents extra. Patrons of "baseball at Webster Hall" should bear in mind that rain here does not interfere with the reports of games elsewhere. HOW TO GET THERE.

A tribute, as it were, to its own enterprise.
THE EVENINI WOULD does not hesitate to say a pleasant word of introduction for "baseball at Webster Hall." It is tolerably certain to be a notable feature of the baseball season in this town.

The Patriot's Offering At Liberty's altar the monarch laid His sceptre and golden crown; The chevalier offered his trusty blade. That won him broad lands and renown.

But Liberty turned with scorn away—
Such gifts told of wrong and of tears:
But a smile o'er her features shone radian
and gay,
As a youth with rare tribute appears. His fair young life to the Goddess he gave.
With all its bright hopes and its love:
For the sacrifics, Liberty sighs o'er his grave
In the shades of the cypress grove.

Hackman (in Captain Reilly's tenderloin precinct)—I've brought him in, sir.

Bergeant—I see you have. What nas he done:
Hackman—I saked him where he wanted to go an he said 'heaven.' an' I thought, puttin' two an' two together, sir, I'd fetch him here.

He Wanted No Fighting.

[From the Epoch.]

Austin Gibbons is expected home to-morrow evening. He will immediately strend to Mike Cushing's challenge, re says his brother Jim. Cushing has $100 forfeit posted with the Potice (arxive for a match for $1,000 as ide and the $1,000 purse offered by the Unritan Athletic Club. Jim says his brother is quite as anxious to meet the redoubtable Cushing again as the latter is to seek his revenge for his former defeat.

The Crescent Canoe Club, which has its beadquarters on Newark Bay, is one of the liveliest organizations of its kind in this country and is thriving wonderfully, so much so that a much larger boat-house is needed than is now in the Club's possession.

tion, father."
"Indeed!"
"Yes: I do not want my heirs to fight over my will." The Clermont Athletic Club, of Brooklyn, will hold a boxing fournament May 1. The following will be the weights: 105, 115, 125, 135 and 158 pounds. Entries close April 28 with M. F. Hariborough, 427 [From Puck.]

It seems strange that Nick Young allows so good a man as Billy Quinn, the umpire, to be snatched up by a minor league. The National League is much in need of just such an umpire.

[From the Washington Post.] "Why don't you eat, Mr. Bliven?" said that young man's landlady. "You seem in doubt about something." "I am."

"What is it?"
"I can't make up my mind whether that is a very small piece of steak or whether the servant simply forgot to wash the plate."
